

Matron Georgina Pope, RRC Valiants Memorial

Matron Georgina Pope, RRC
(1862-1938)

A pioneering army nurse, she was the first Canadian awarded the Royal Red Cross for conspicuous service in the field and, in 1908, became the first matron in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. She later returned to the battlefield in 1917 in France.

First World War

Located around the Sappers Staircase, on the northeastern corner of Confederation Square, adjacent to the National War Memorial., Ottawa, Ontario